

Frances Sobolak

curriculum vitae

Updated Jan 2021

fes56@cornell.edu

<https://fesobolak.github.io/>

EDUCATION

Linguistics, Ph.D.
Cornell University
Graduate Minor: American Indian and Indigenous Studies

Expected May 2023

Bachelor of Arts, Linguistics
The University of Michigan
Minor: Music

May 2018

RESEARCH INTERESTS

morphology, syntax-semantics interface, language revitalization and documentation

PUBLICATIONS

Sobolak, Frances. 2020. Parallels between passive allomorphy and object agreement in Montana Salish. D. K. E. Reisinger, Hannah Green, Marianne Huijsmans, Gloria Mellesmoen, and Bailey Trotter (eds.), Proceedings of International Conference of Salish and Neighboring Languages 55:314–325. Vancouver, Canada.

TEACHING & PROFESSIONAL

First Year Writing (FWS) Instructor
LING 1101-104: Language, Thought, and Reality

Fall 2020

Research assistant
NSF Grant: Cheyenne Dictionary Project
Facult supervisor: Sarah Murray

Spring 2020

First Year Writing (FWS) Instructor
LING 1101-102: Language, Thought, and Reality

Fall 2019

Literacy, Language, and Learning Institute
Administrative assistant

2016-2018

DyslexiaHelp
Research blog

2015-2018

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Writing 7100: Teaching Writing
pedagogy course for teaching First-year Writing Seminar summer 2019

IRB training
Institutional Review Board training for working with human subjects/participants completion record ID: 34193197

certified until 2024

PRESENTATIONS

Parallels between passive and object agreement in Seliš
Linguistic Society of America
San Francisco, LA

Jan 2021

Parallels between passive allomorphy and object agreement in Montana Salish May

	2020 Research Workshop Presentations: Cornell Linguistics Ithaca, NY
	Montana Salish epenthesis and consonant class division Society for the Study of Indigenous Languages New Orleans, LA	Jan 2020
	Opera Correspondence: Translating English Semantics into Musical Syntax Porgy and Bess Symposium Ann Arbor, MI	Feb 2018
	Evidence for Prosodic Truncation in Montana Salish University of Michigan Linguistics Capstone Symposium Ann Arbor, MI	April 2017
AWARDS & HONORS	Graduate School Conference Travel Grant, Cornell University	2019
	Linguistics Department Conference Travel Grant, Cornell University	2019
	Sage Fellowship	2018
UNIVERSITY SERVICES	Graduate Students Mentoring Undergrads (GSMU) (Cornell) Graduate mentor	2019-current
	Syntax Reading Group (Cornell) President	2019-current
	Linguistics for Anti-Racism (Cornell) Speaker Series Coordinator	2019-current
	Cornell Linguistic Circle Speaker Series Coordinator	2018-current 2019-current
	HistLing (University of Michigan)	2017
LANGUAGE SKILLS	Native English
	Classroom Latin - 4 years Ancient Greek - 2 years
	Research Montana Salish - 4 years Cheyenne - 1 year	